

St Bartholomew's CE Primary School

3rd February 2020

Dear Parents and Carers,

Science Week – 10th February to 13th February 2020

During the final week of this term, the children will be taking part in a Science Week based on the overarching topic - Our Diverse Planet. This will enable the children to enjoy a range of activities in their classrooms within a less formal timetable. The topic of Our Diverse Planet also has links to the work we do with PSHE and our core values, as well as linking well to Geography.

The Science part of the curriculum will focus mainly on Animals and Humans and how we, as individuals, are unique and diverse.

To launch this week in a fun way, the children are being asked to come to school on Monday 10th February sporting a 'Mad Scientist' hairstyle similar to Albert Einstein! We are certainly looking forward to seeing the children participate!

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask.

Regards
