

Autumn Gardening Challenge

Each class is being challenged to grow the biggest 'over winter' cauliflowers in their allotment area. At the end of the growing season they will be harvested, weighed and turned into a savoury dish created by each individual class. This will culminate in a tasting session, whereby the size of the cauliflower and quality of the dish will be judged and an overall class winner will be declared.

Photographs and updates will be made via the Cauliflower blog on our school website.
